Honor for Farmers Magnificent Victory over 7000 Majority
Hearty Congratulations to you Bob!

The Farmers' candidate Mr. Robert Gardiner won a splendid Victory last Tuesday at the Bye-Election at Medicine Hat, defeating the Government candidate Colonel Spencer by the terrific majority of over 7000

The Review said some weeks ago, "that the most 'unlikely Farmer' amongst us, might one day be at Ottawa with an Orchid in his coat and the applauding Senate his to command"

And now this has come true, for at the Farmers' Convention, many a man went there thinking he stood one of the best of chances of being Nominated as the Farmers' Candidate and were thunder-struck when Robert Gardiner was finally Nominated

Now by his good practical common sense, Robert may win the "applause of the Senate"

Gird up your armour still tighter Farmers and do a Yeoman's work and thus win still more Battles in this Provincial Election which is now on, and later when the Dominion Elections come off - (the six after next) so that our Bob will have hosts of loyal Legislators down at Ottawa to help him to carry through Laws that will be Beneficial to the Farmers and every person in Canada.

And then our Bob will not have to sit on a lonely seat by himself to be jibed at by the monkeys of this present Government, which was nicely predicted by the now defeated Candidate Col. Spencer

"The Farmers are such a mighty mass that they cannot keep them down any longer—they will have a fair share in framing the Laws of Canada."

"Forward be our watchword Hearts and voices joined"

We regret to report the death of Mr. Charles Olof Carlson, late of Bow Island who died in Medicine Hat Hospital on Thursday 28d. Creston B.C.

Earl Peairs is home this week on the sick list.

Mr. Richard Kirsch and son Tim bow Island have returned to the mill timbers and are working for Mr. Schomert near Kitchener.

Geo. Bege of Kitchener is spending a few days in Creston.

Mrs. J. P. Peairs and daughter Nina were passengers Sunday evening to Duck Creek (the Strawberry city) and were guests of Mr. Anderson over night.

The Yank Hall Team invaded our City Sunday and crossed tabs with the locals. Their team was rigged out in new suits and looked like a real ball team, but at the end of the game they stood 14 to 22 in favour of Creston. We must say they were good sports and took the trimming in good humor.

The little town of Duck Creek is lively here at present they are shipping about one thousand cartons of berries a day at present.

The Dominion road crew had the misfortune to break their steam roller which caused them to lay off part of their crew for a few days.

The anglers that go out after the funny trout are all rewarded with bites but not many fish bites, as the musquitos is making himself very prominent these days.

The water on the flats was the highest it has been for several years it is receding rapidly and a good crop of hay is expected.

The Real Estate men report several sales last week in ranches and town property.

The New M. P.

Robert Gaudin of Excel, the victor in the Medicine Hat by-election is a farmer of the progressive school. He has undertaken, which offers a last confidence to his supporters in his ability to make good at Ottawa.

The new M. P. who is just turned forty and a bachelor, was born in Alexandria, Scotland. He obtained only a common school education, but secured some excellent business training while engaged in the dry goods trade in London, Sheffield and York. In 1902 he came to Canada, settling at Indian Head, Sask. where he worked as a farm hand. In 1908 he moved to a homestead near North Battleford and in 1911 moved to the Excel district. He owns three quarter sections of land and is known as one of the best farmers in that country.

His political career dates back to 1910, when he was elected to the Municipal Council of Meota, Sask. and later to the Golden Centre council in Alberta. In 1916 he was elected reeve of this council, a position which he still holds. In 1919 Mr. Gaudin was elected vice-president of the Municipal Districts Association of Alberta, and is filling a third term now. He is also a member of the Municipal Hall Insurance Board.

Grain for Export

(National Crop Improvement Service.) "Duluth is the gateway for a large proportion of Canadian grain," says C. F. MacDonald, secretary, Duluth Board of Trade, "and at no other point does Canada come into such close contact with the United States."

"Millions of bushels of grain are shipped across the ocean, all of it being hedged to protect the operators as well as the banks. Banks generally refuse to lend money on grain which is not protected by hedging."

"The shipper does not desire to profit by a rise, but merely wishes to secure his ordinary profit of a few cents per bushel for handling."

"However, it takes time to get the shipment purchased and under way and as the price of the grain may decline enough in the meantime to wipe out all of his profit, he makes a practice when he buys the wheat from the country, to sell future delivery contracts against it in some grain exchange, thus one offsetting the other."

"This method of eliminating risk is not speculation, in fact it is the very opposite. There is always a speculator who is willing to underwrite this contract, but the grain dealer who hedges insures himself against any possible loss. The grain dealer, the flour miller and the exporter are not in a position to take chances and that is why they take this kind of insurance."

"I wonder," says he, "whether farmers realize the shipping grain abroad, that they are building up the fertility of European farms instead of their own? It would seem to me that this grain ought to be sold on this side of the water in our own behalf, shipping 400 instead of 40,000 grain."

New Marking Regulation A Guide To Purchasing Canadian Made Goods

"The marking of goods with their country of origin is going to have an excellent effect in British trade in Canada, and I only wish it were brought into force earlier than September 1st," stated Capt. Evans J. Edwards, senior British Trade Commissioner in Montreal, in reply to a request for his views on this important change in our importing system, to enable Canadian customers to know just what goods they are buying.

Examples of foreign goods masquerading as British or Canadian are continually being brought to my notice. Some of these deceptions are of no moment, and some are made innocently, such as the Japanese manufacturer who has used his goods to look like "Nippon." Nippon is their native word for Japan, but probably to most people it appears as the registered trade name of a Canadian or British maker.

"Other cases of improper marking are intentionally fraudulent," continued Capt. Edwards, "such as the marking of German manufacturers with English names, and the names of English cities. I get many examples of German manufacturers, for instance, with the name 'Sheffield' on them, as if they came from the celebrated cutlery centre. That is the rankest kind of fraud, done deliberately to mislead buyers. At one time it was possible to detect it from the appearance of the goods. If one was acquainted with the appearance of German printing which, even in Roman type, is different to English, but some clever fellows have secured fakes of English type, so that means of detection goes, and as they have learned the need of using good English translation, it is not possible to see even from their catalogues where the goods were made."

As the minister of finance remarked, in his budget speech, the Canadian public has a right to know from whom they are buying, and if you go into any store and ask for Canadian or British goods you will quickly find how hard it is to find them. In the ramifications of business, goods pass from one merchant to another, and finally to the retailer, who cannot keep track in many cases, where the goods he has on his shelves were made.

In Canada I like to buy Canadian goods, and do whenever I can find them, but it is at present very hard work to do so, and sometimes I accept things as Canadian which eventually turn out to be American manufacture. We have to support our own manufacturers, Canadian as well as British, since on them depends the livelihood of so many of us. The more foreign goods we buy, the less we can make ourselves, and the result, if continued in, would be the extinction of British as well as Canadian manufacturing industry.

When the marking regulations come into force all goods, made abroad will be marked legibly in English or French with the names of the country they are made in, to prevent chances of injury. Some will be stamped, others branded, while things that cannot be so marked will bear labels. When the regulations are in full working order you will be able to tell Canadian goods because they will bear no country of origin marking. Imports, on the other hand, will all bear the necessary mark, and to ensure that they do so, I understand, to be examined by Canadian Customs and without any chance of the mark being altered here, after importation.

For awhile British and other manufacturers abroad will experience some little confusion," said Capt. Edwards in conclusion, "and they will certainly be put to some trouble in making arrangements for marking their product, but they recognize in the United Kingdom that it will be very much to their advantage in the long run, and are getting ready to comply with the Canadian requirements in this respect. Those who by accident or design neglect to mark their product as laid down will be quickly brought to book by Canadian Customs, who are to take the goods, mark them at the importers' expense, and levy an extra duty of 10 per cent. on them."

"Death of Domestic in the East. The death of domestic servants in the eastern provinces is so great that it is no unusual thing when employers of three greatly desired household helpers are expected from England for prospective country, or about to come, to the immigration sheds on the arrival of a steamer and attempt to hire them there.

A large office building just completed in Detroit has more than four miles of corridors.

Canadians Should Be Optimists

There is No Danger of Nation Going Bankrupt.

Be an optimist! No one can smile and see a great future for Canada when prices are jumping, every one is prosperous, and we have a fresh supply of millionaires for breakfast every morning.

It takes a different brand of confidence to smile when prices drop, the dollar lumps up with interest, and a magnifying glass, and the breakfast food has changed from millionaires to bankrupts.

But from all over Canada come reports that indicate a bumper crop. The starvation that stares some communities in the face gives the Dominion a wide berth. There is work for everyone who is not too proud or delicate to work on the land.

And all the while Canada's national resources are increasing in value. There is gold in the Northwest, oil in the Arctic circle, and billions of tons of coal waiting to be mined in the western provinces.

It is a period of unexampled poverty. The world is strewn with bankrupt nations. And Canada looks up among them as one of the few nations—if it is a nation—that can look to the future with a full stomach and a satisfied smile.

Be an optimist!—From the Toronto Telegram.

Quebec Company Will Adopt Regulations to Insure Permanence of Forest.

An extensive plan of reforesting its timber lands has been decided upon by the Chicomini Pulp Company. The company has obtained the services of the Quebec Forestry Department to make a complete survey of its lands, and the results of the survey will be the basis of its reforestation plan. It is said that the company will adopt most rigid regulations in order to insure the permanence of its forest capital. The outline of the project has already been adopted and the company has lately employed an expert to Europe, where he will study European methods on the ground and consult with the best known practitioners in this field.

Has Station On Farm

Alberta Farmer Was Once 35 Miles From Railway.

James R. Sutherland, owner of what is said to be the largest irrigated farm in Alberta, has taken into partnership with him, John M. McEwen, and the farm will be operated by an organization known as the Berry Creek Farming Company. The farm, located at Warden, comprises 5000 acres, and to date about $40,000 has been expended in irrigation works, including twelve miles of main ditches. When Mr. Sutherland first took up this land he was thirty-five miles from a railway. Now he has a station on his farm.

Growth Of Saskatchewan

Province Has Seven Cities and Seventy-eight Towns.

Saskatchewan's growth since becoming a province in 1905 is very clearly illustrated in recently published figures. In 1905 there were only three cities in the province, whereas there are now seven. Towns have increased from sixteen to seventy-eight, and the number of organized municipalities from sixty-three to three hundred and thirty-seven. There were two municipalities in the newly created province when it was first organized in 1905, and in number to three hundred and one at the present time.

Vancouver Firm Secures Contract. Between fifteen and twenty tenders have been submitted for the construction of the Leithbridge Northern Irrigation scheme by some of the largest contracting concerns in Canada and the United States, and the contract will be awarded to a Vancouver firm. The contract will entail the construction of fifty miles of main ditches for the 100,000-acre project.

Road Work In Saskatchewan

Road work totaling close onto two hundred miles is now in the course of progress for prospective country, or about to come, to the immigration sheds on the arrival of a steamer and attempt to hire them there.

A large office building just completed in Detroit has more than four miles of corridors.

British Settlers Arrive

The Majority Had Farming Experience and Considerable Capital.

The Canadian Pacific steamer "Minnetonka," which docked at Montreal recently had a total passenger list of 1485, almost entirely British, and of a very high standard. About eighty per cent. it was stated, were bound for the land, the majority having had previous farming experience and being in possession of considerable capital.

Seeing Nature With The Ear

Blind Men Names Trees By Sound of Leaves.

A man in the north of England lost his sight at the age of 22. He took to walking about the roads and listening to sounds of life around him.

Now he can recognize the trees by the sound of the wind blowing their leaves, and the noise of the rain upon the leaves, and whether it is fall or spring.

He was engaged by the Park Committee of three northern cities to name the trees in their parks for them.

This remarkable instance of the "sense" possessed by the sightless, was related by Mr. Adam Duncombe, President of the Guild of Blind Gardeners, of England.

Insurance In Saskatchewan

Total Amount in Force in 1920 Was $208,000,000.

The total amount of life insurance in force in Saskatchewan in 1920 was $208,000,000, as compared with $173,506,392 in 1919, according to statistics compiled by Arthur E. Foster, insurance commissioner for the province. The amount written during the year was $7,947,347. Premiums collected during 1920 were approximately a million dollars more than in 1919, premium collection in 1920 being $6,654,986 as compared with $5,427,190 in 1919. The claims incurred in this province last year amounted to $872,299, while the claims paid totaled $788,102.

Gold Bullion From Manitoba Mine.

Fisheries Production

Domestic Fisheries In 1920 Show a Marked Decrease.

The fisheries production of Canada for the year 1920 shows a marked decrease. The total value of the catch was $49,321,217, according to a return just filed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This showed a decrease of $7,000,000 from the previous year. British Columbia's fishing industry accounted for $23,300,000 of the total, and that in Nova Scotia, $12,700,000. Salmon is by far Canada's most important fish, the lobster coming second, and cod, halibut and herring third. The catch of salmon in 1920 was 100,000 worth of white fish were marketed.

Expenditure For Manitoba Highways

The estimated expenditure on road construction in Manitoba this season is $3,493,869, according to A. McGillivray, highway commissioner. Municipalities will contribute approximately fifty per cent. of the cost of construction.

Buenos Aires

Goos Into Business

Making Effort to Reduce High Cost of Living.

The municipal government of Buenos Aires has gone into the grocery and butcher business in an effort to decrease the high cost of living. The municipality is buying meat, vegetables, bread, sugar and other foodstuffs and placing them on sale in various markets throughout the city, at the same time prohibiting the wholesalers from selling the produce during the day and giving the location of the markets which have been stocked with municipal supplies.

For several months the municipality has been selling shoes and a few other articles of clothing for men, women and children in the city dispensary. Clothing prices have been decreasing recently, but the cost of foodstuffs is much higher than the municipal authorities think reasonable, and they hope to bring about a general lowering of these costs by underselling the trade.

Agricultural Survey

Manitoba to Make a Thorough Investigation Into Rural Life.

Conditions.

Plans are under way by the Manitoba Agricultural College for a survey of the province as regards effect of weather on production, location of dry successful methods of dry farming, location of frost areas, investigation of kinds of crops best suited to them, types of soil in various localities, insect and plant diseases, difficulties met by stock breeders, various types of power used in cultivating small and large tracts of land, and thorough investigation into rural life conditions.

A Huge Undertaking

The work of deepening the St. Lawrence shipping channel from the present 30-foot level to 35 feet is progressing steadily, with dredgers continually employed in the river. Most of the deepening has been done between Montreal and Three Rivers and a field report to Quebec, taking years to complete.

Irish Settlers For Manitoba.

Experiments With Plants Result in Producing Rust Resisting Varieties

Polish Keepakes To Be Returned

Have Been Preserved in Switzerland For 190 Years.

The Polish Government is arranging to return to Warsaw about 150,000 national keepakes, removed to Switzerland in 1771 to prevent their falling into enemy hands.

When the partition of Poland between Prussia, Russia and Austria became imminent, patriotic Poles began to transfer collections of national relics to Reperuvella, Switzerland, where they have been preserved for nearly 150 years.

Individuals who managed to get away with the collection, in Switzerland made additions to the collection from time to time, long after the Russians were in control of what is known as Congress Poland.

Among the relics of old times is a sceptre of one of the Polish kings. The keepakes are to be added to the national museum in Warsaw which has been established now that Poland has regained her freedom.

Shipping B.C. Berries to England.

At the request of shippers of British Columbia, an investigation has been made by the Canadian Trade Commissioner in London, England, as to the possibilities of selling raspberries and strawberries to English jam manufacturers. Great interest was evinced in the project, experimental shipments will be made, and there is strong possibility of a substantial trade being built up in shipping berries in a frozen condition to the overseas jam market.

Unique Industry For B.C.

There is a possibility of an Angora woolen industry being started on Vancouver Island, utilizing the wool from the Angora rabbit which, it is claimed, can be spun into the finest and softest wool. The rabbits from which the test was made were bred at Prospect Lake, a short distance from Victoria.

Certain diseases of plants have been successfully combated by the production of resistant varieties. This is the case with flax, cabbage, yellow, medium, etc., etc.

A systematic effort has been made to secure and test every variety of wheat for rust resistance has been claimed anywhere. In addition, I have tested hundreds of varieties from nearly every wheat growing country of the world. The tests were made not only in the field over a series of years, but also in the greenhouse where the plants were inoculated artificially and where conditions can be made much more favorable for rust development than in the field.

Out of all the varieties tested less than a dozen showed true resistance, and of these none are of commercial value for other reasons unless it be one or two of the macaroni type whose drawbacks are familiar. Practically all the resistant varieties are durum or emmer. No constant resistant bread wheats have been found.

When resistant varieties were first secured, extensive experiments were at once begun. Without going into detail it may be said that we showed that the Canadian generation plants transmitted in crosses and appeared in a certain proportion of the second generation hybrids. At least eight of the Canadian generation plants are wholly susceptible and many show intermediate grades of resistance. The results of experiments, for example, 21st second generation hybrids were quite susceptible, while only 21st first resistant. It was also conclusively shown that the resistance present in a few of the hybrids was combined with many at least of the good qualities of the standard variety which the cross had been made.

The production of good resistant varieties appeared therefore to be merely a question of making enough crosses and raising enough hybrids plants to secure the one resistant plant which would have all the other desirable qualities. It was recognized that this would be a big task because of the small percentage of resistant hybrids and because of the small percentage of these resistant hybrids which would possess the desirable qualities of the standard parent. Very large numbers were raised and tested and already in 1919 hybrids had been secured which were quite resistant here at Saskatoon and which at the same time lacked very good in regard to the other qualities.

The prospects were completely changed by a very interesting but very disappointing discovery. We had found that pure varieties which had proved resistant for several years had suddenly appeared quite susceptible. We had supposed that this was due to some defect in our work—some unknown lack of precautions. But in 1919 it occurred again for one of our best strains had several of our hybrids. It then became probable and sure has been abundantly proved that the discrepancies were due to different strains of rust-strains which were in the varieties, of their attacks on particular varieties of wheat. —By Prof. W. P. Thompson, University of Saskatchewan.

Byng of Vimy

New Governor-General Possesses Tact and Good Sense.

Why should Lord Charles Murphy doubt the ability of Lord Byng to perform his duties as governor-general of Canada because he is a military man? Lord Byng was a military man, and he was a very good governor-general both in Canada and in India; and that good old soldier, Lord Byng, was one of the best of the best governor-generals we ever had in Canada. Experience in statecraft and diplomatic skill are not required in a governor-general; it is tact and good sense, and Byng of Vimy has shown that he possesses both in the conduct of his attacks on particular varieties of wheat.

German Vessel on St. Lawrence.

The Canadian Pacific liner "Esperanza" is a governor-general to north "Kaiserin Augusta Victoria," has been officially assigned to the St. Lawrence route, and will make her first sailing in July. With luxurious cabin equipment, built in 1905, the liner will be operated as a three-class boat.

Fine Report of Burdett Schools

The Burdett School is in first class condition and is on a par with any of its kind. The teaching staff has been exceptionally chosen and the teachers have given real service during the past ten months

The district may well be proud of its school, which can give an education, with the exception of Household Arts and Manual Training, through Public and part of High School, equal to that of any city school. It is to be hoped that in the near future the two above mentioned phases of education will be added

The principal Mr. Spackman deserves great credit in bringing the school to its present standing

To show that the parent ratepayers are interested in the education and welfare of the nation, a more tangible sign than that which has been shown in the past, is required. Parents and ratepayers are requested to visit the school, to offer suggestions and give praise and encouragement when due
